Technical layout

“

We had the BEST time on the charter; we loved Captain Niksa and his crew.

What we loved about the boat was her layout and expansiveness, and how thoughtfully every detail was considered for guests. It was the quietest and solid boat we've ever been on; there was very little rocking even on windy or stormy days. The layout of the boat was very accommodating for a party of our size-- many boats don't have a lot of uncovered deck space, to hang out; we really loved the top level where there was room to lay out, and everyone enjoyed the hot tub and we also loved the front area where we watched movies at night, or had a quiet space to be away from a crowd if we wanted to be. And of course, we enjoyed the dining area where we had our meals and played lots of games. Also, it was the first boat we've chartered/been on where we actually made use of the interior salon; it felt like a natural extension of the exterior. We all felt like we had lots of room for our things as well as for ourselves. We never felt crowded. We also loved the toys and made good use of the seabobs and paddle boards every day, and also we got in some wakeboarding and waterskiing.

The crew was very professional and always attuned to our needs. We also felt in very good hands from a navigation and safety perspective in all circumstances. Captain Niksa's knowledge of all of the cruising areas (from the best places to anchor, to spend the night and have the best views, to where to go for lunch, to which areas to avoid (like for jellyfish for example) added to the overall joy of the trip! Niksa was also on top of the weather, he was prepared in advance for every contingency. His workmanship and care for his boat and crew were evident in all his actions. The crew were very pleasant, responsive, and attentive without being intrusive. Our cabins were spotless; laundry was perfectly done without incident. We all loved the laundry detergent it smelled so good!

Breakfasts were a nice mix of yoghurts, croissants/bread, prosciutto, fruit platters, jams and local honey, local specialities, your choice of eggs as you like, and generally pancakes or waffles. Breakfasts were a universal thumbs up.

Lunches were always a mix of grilled fish and some kind of meat, along with green salad and another salad of couscous or quinoa and vegetables and a dessert. We loved the chef's salad dressings, and his desserts were a huge hit. The fish was always fresh and simply prepared (which we liked). One day we had tuna poke bowls (or chicken if you didn't like fish), and that was a huge hit with everyone. Dinners, again, we liked to eat simply prepared fish/meats, with vegetables /salads. Most meals we ate family style as we liked and finished off with delicious desserts.

We loved every minute on Acapella and have already recommended the boat to our friend.

What made the trip so special was not only the boat itself - a great boat for a group of mixed ages - something for everyone -- but the crew, and the charming and endearing Captain Niksa.

The entire experience was amazing! The captain and the crew exceeded all my expectations. Every member of my family said it was the best vacation they'd ever had. The Acapella is an extraordinary yacht, designed with every possible luxury and convenience you can imagine. The yacht was only surpassed by the quality and performance of the captain and the crew. I will unhesitatingly recommend it to all my friends. From beginning to end, the trip has been a seamless joy. It's going to be impossible for any future family vacation to live up to this one.

If it's an amazing quality you're after, you can't go past ACAPELLA. She is unquestionably the "Feadship" of Croatian motor sailors. The owner is passionate and meticulous. He's a perfectionist and has spent $6-7 mill on what should have been a $4m boat. Every detail onboard is perfect, from the free-flowing design to the quality of insulation (her generators and A/C are almost silent) to the alignment of the televisions within their wall cavities to the quality of crockery and glassware. Every detail is perfect. He replaces the carpet after every season, and you could almost eat off the floor in the engine room. There is a huge head height in the salon of 2.3m and a high guest/crew ratio of 9 crew to 10 guests.

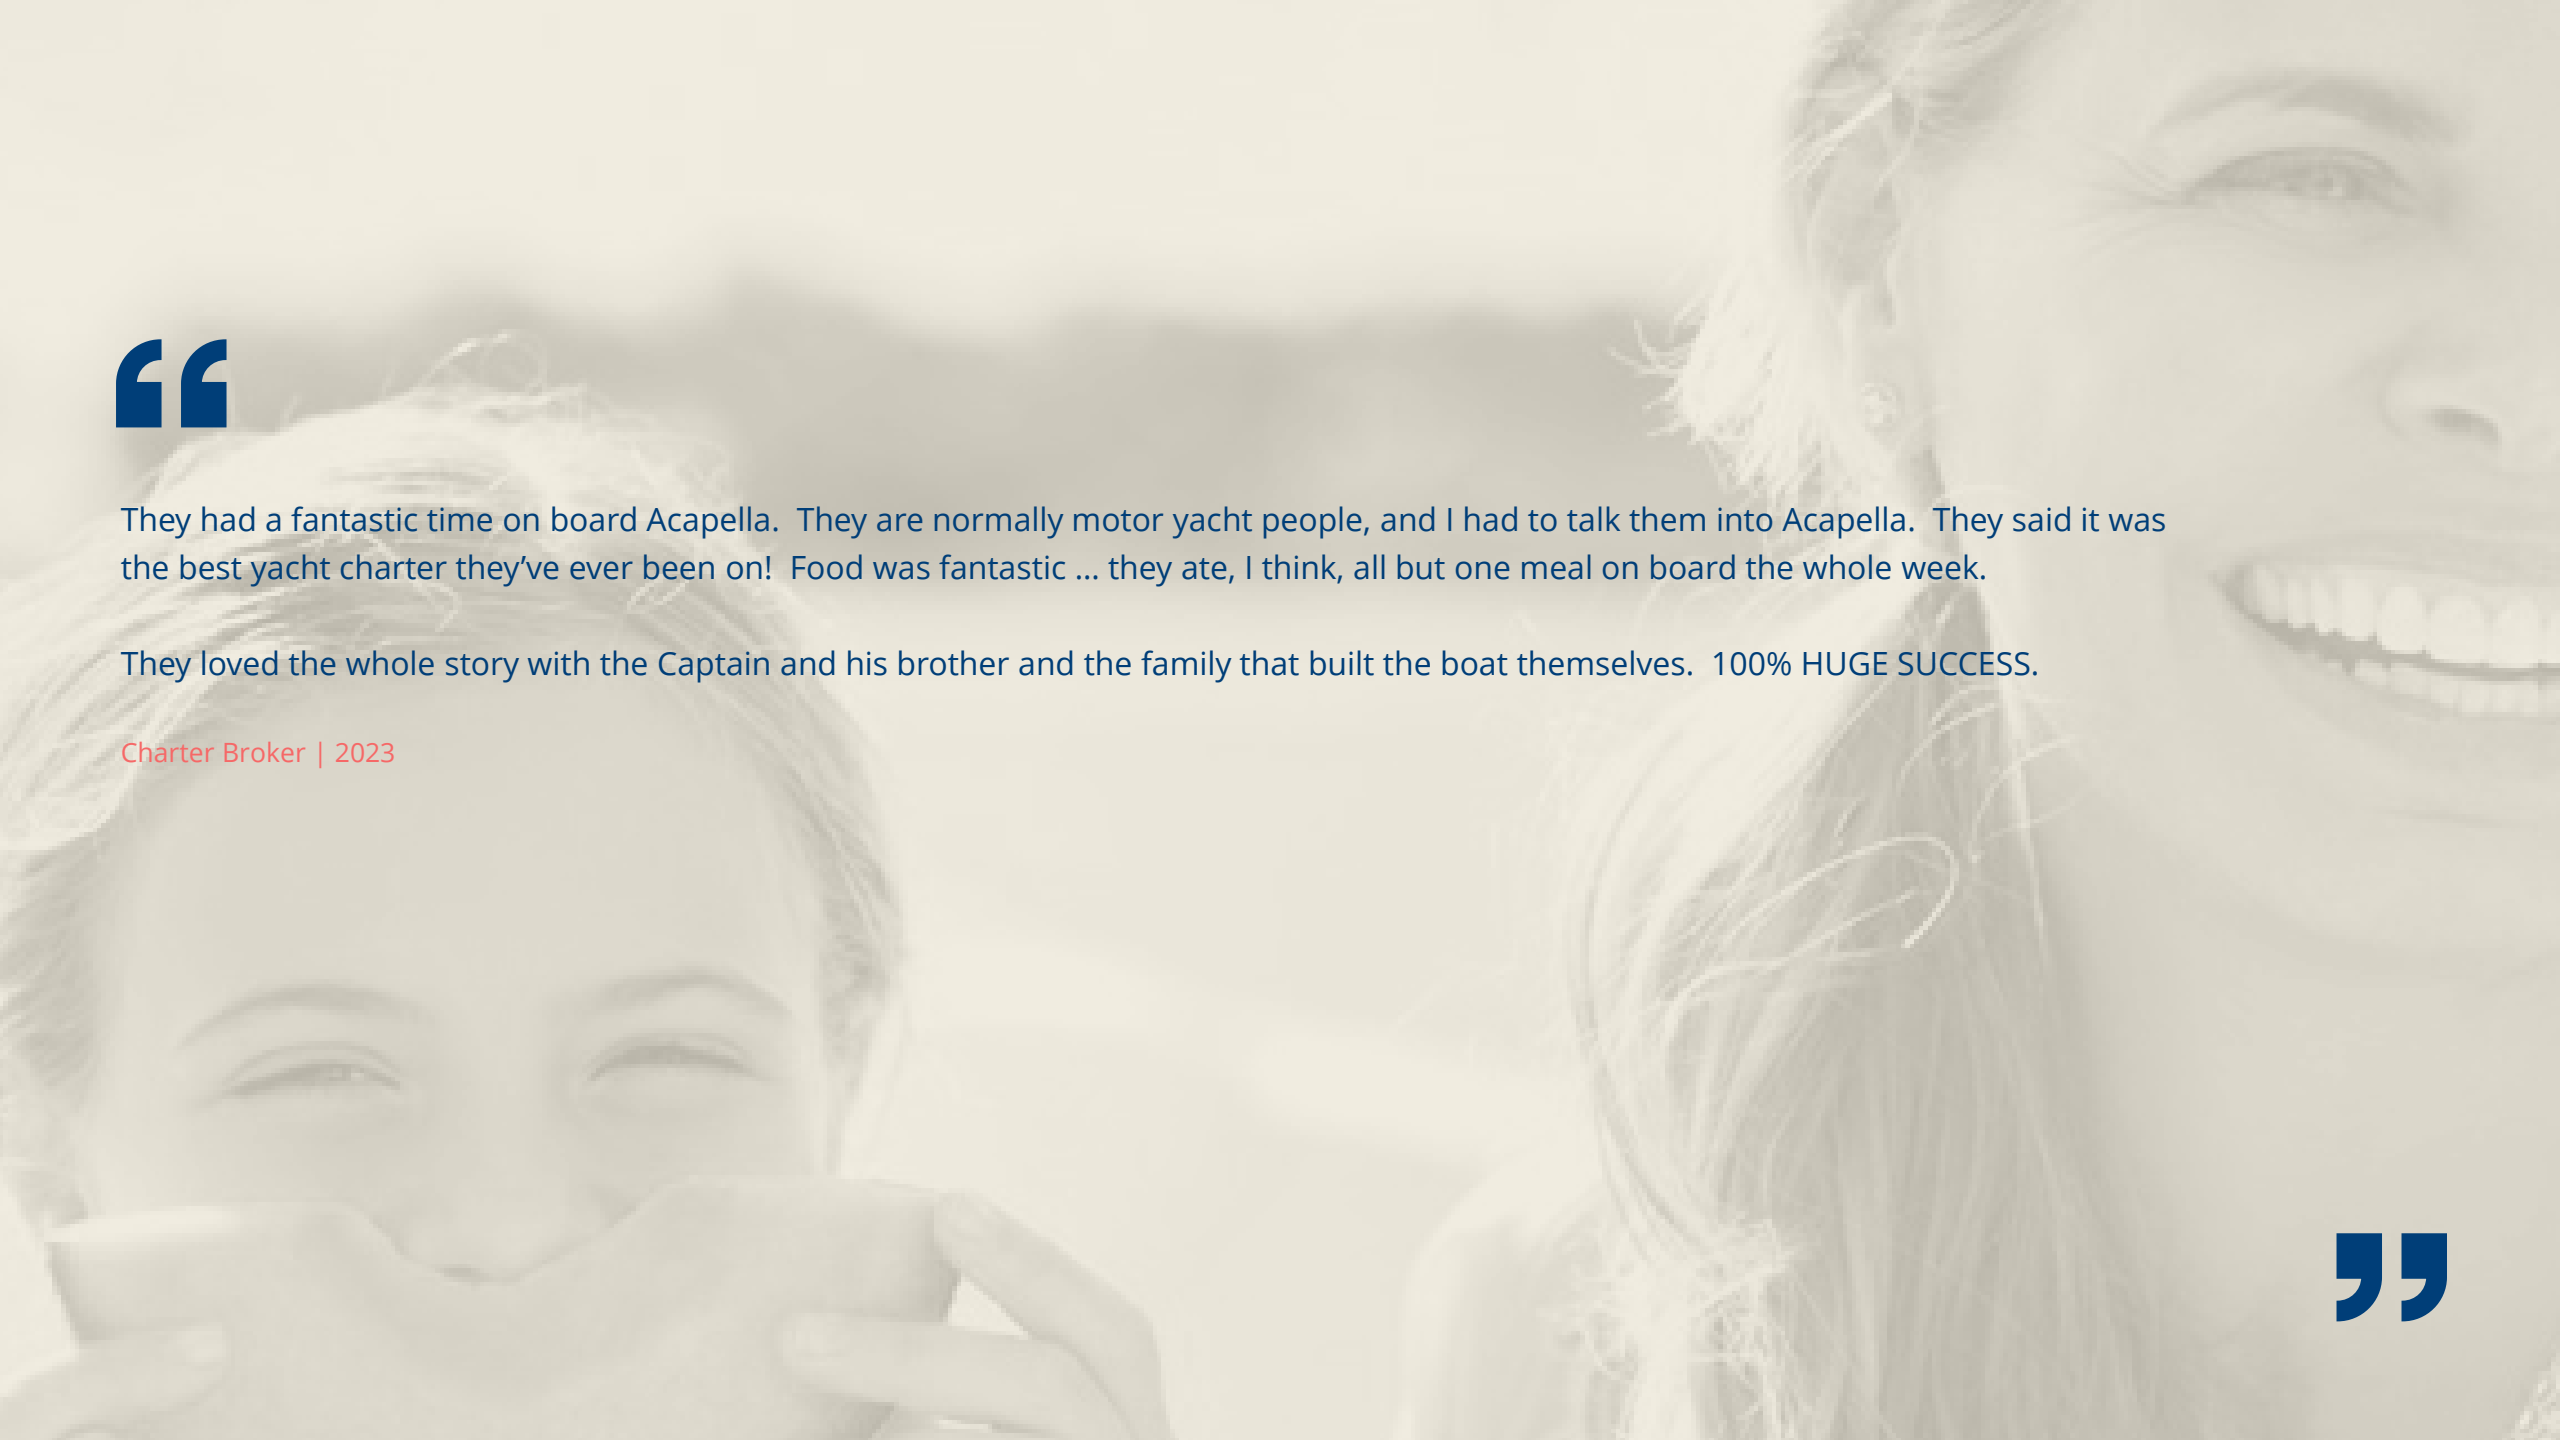

He also runs an incredible team with a Michelin-trained chef and a very professional stewardess' with Sommelier training yet a relaxed, calm demeanour. The meal we had onboard last week was first class, as was the service. Niksa has retained almost all of the crew from last year, so they already have fluidity in working together. The crew are 100% non-smokers.

She only has 5 cabins but 2 of them have a double + a single so they can accommodate 12 at a push. One of the masters has a bed the width of Texas! There are three full-width masters.

The owner has invested heavily in rigging and sails, and they aim to include at least one 'sailing day' per charter. The owner/Captain loves to sail so if guests are into it, he's your man. The boat is also exceptionally efficient. Her cruising speed is 12 knots at only a 130L p/hr consumption rate (!) and she can comfortably cruise at up to 14 under motor which outruns many motorboats.

They had a fantastic time on board Acapella. They are normally motor yacht people, and I had to talk them into Acapella. They said it was the best yacht charter they've ever been on! Food was fantastic ... they ate, I think, all but one meal on board the whole week.

They loved the whole story with the Captain and his brother and the family that built the boat themselves. 100% HUGE SUCCESS.
