Captain | Ante Ercegović

For Ante, the sea is not just a career - it's a family legacy carried into a new era with AXA.

As a seventh-generation captain and boat owner, Ante has the sea in his blood. Growing up sailing with his father and grandfather sparked a lifelong passion that has shaped both his career and his family's legacy in the yachting industry.

Graduating cum laude from the Faculty of Maritime Studies in Split, Ante combined academic excellence with hands-on experience. He was instrumental in building Navilux, one of Croatia's first custom luxury yachts, later taking the helm of her sister ship Aiaxaia (now Omnia). After years of captaining both vessels, he returned to Navilux before embarking on his newest project - AXA, the third yacht in the family fleet.

Detail-oriented and a natural leader, Ante has a gift for creating yachts that feel both timeless and innovative. With AXA, he blends tradition, passion, and vision into a vessel that reflects not only his family's heritage but also his personal dedication to redefining Adriatic yachting.
