Overview

PROPOSITION enters the charter market as an ultra-luxe platform designed for the charterer that appreciates the beauty in the details. Delivered in 2025, this Azimut Magellano 30M combines an award-winning layout by Ken Freivokh with interiors by Vincenzo De Cotiis, creating a yacht defined by volume, natural light and a strong connection to her cruising grounds. Part of a limited Magellano 30M series, with fewer than 10 hulls delivered globally, she offers a level of exclusivity that is rarely found in her class while delivering the versatility today's charter guests expect.

The defining feature of PROPOSITION is the way her design shapes the onboard experience. Floor-to-ceiling windows and an expansive open-plan interior dissolve the boundaries between inside and out, filling the yacht with daylight and framing uninterrupted views from nearly every principal living space. The atmosphere is light, contemporary, and luxurious, with calming tones and modern finishes that keep the focus on the surroundings. Whether cruising between anchorages or enjoying a relaxed morning onboard, the changing seascape remains a constant presence throughout the yacht.

Designed as a semi-displacement motor yacht with an emphasis on efficient cruising, PROPOSITION is equally suited to days spent exploring as she is to long afternoons at anchor. The yacht's Dual Mode hull is designed to combine cruising efficiency with comfort and seakeeping, while multiple social spaces allow guests to gather together or spread out as the day unfolds.

The yacht's accommodation arrangement is another standout. PROPOSITION welcomes up to 10 guests in five en-suite cabins, anchored by a full-beam main-deck master suite with a king-size bed and panoramic views that place the ocean at the center of the room. Below, two queen VIP cabins, one twin cabin convertible to a king, and one twin cabin with a Pullman suitable for a small child create a highly flexible arrangement, making the yacht particularly well suited to families, couples and multigenerational groups. The thoughtful layout allows guests to enjoy shared experiences throughout the day while still retreating to generous private accommodations.

The crew also creates relaxed beach days using the yacht's dedicated beach setup, complete with tents, tables, seating, a barbecue and more.

Complementing the yacht is a warm, attentive and boutique-style crew recognized for exceptional personalized service. Thoughtful details distinguish the onboard experience, from personalized printed menus for each meal and cocktail hour to custom welcome gift boxes and personalized keepsakes featuring videos and imagery from the charter. On quieter days, themed evenings and onboard trivia offer another way for guests to come together and enjoy time on board.

Combining an award-winning layout, light-filled contemporary interiors, a full-beam main-deck master suite, flexible five-cabin accommodations, a foredeck Jacuzzi, an extensive collection of water toys, and boutique-style service, PROPOSITION delivers a charter platform that is as refined as it is versatile.
